

MAD MAX[®] MOLE TRAP

Attach legs to the Trap body

Screw legs on all the way until seated against body of trap.

Locating the trap

The trap must be placed in an active tunnel. Identify active tunnels by poking a small hole in them or by stepping on them and determining the next day, which ones have been repaired.

Water areas affected by Moles

A saturated lawn will help soften the soil and bring worms and food sources to the surface.

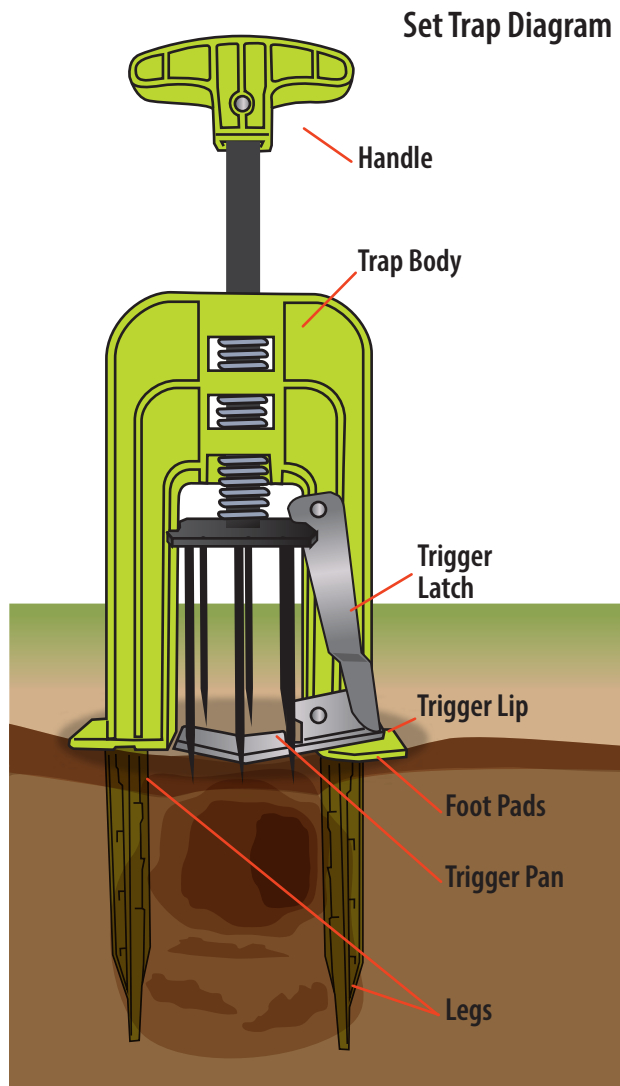

Prepare ground for trap

Pack down the tunnel ridge firmly with your foot (firm heel of a boot). This is the most critical step of the entire process.

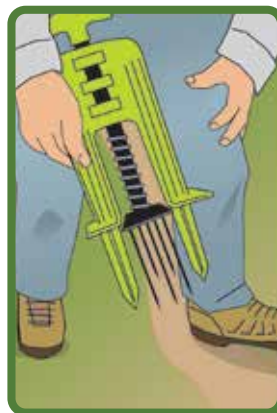

Setting the trap

Locate trap so that legs straddle the tunnel runway. Pull up and down on the handle several times to ensure that spikes move freely through the soil.

Step on Foot Pads and pull the handle firmly upward until trigger clicks into place.
